JUDGE ANDREW J. KIRK, FOR APPELLATE JUDGE

A MOUNTAIN MAN

JUDGE ANDREW J. KIRK.

A. J. Kirk, Republican candidate for nomination subject to the August primary election, for Judge of the Court of Appeals, to succeed Judge Ed C. O'Rear, from this, the Seventh Appellate district of Kentucky. Judge Kirk graduated from the Northern Indiana Law School in 1883, with honors. Served one term as Commonwealth's Attorney under Judge Auxler, in the old Twenty-fourth Judicial district and was elected Circuit Judge at the expiration of his term as Commonwealth's Attorney. He was re-elected Circuit Judge in this district, without opposition. He is a son of an old soldier, his father having been a captain in the Civil War, on the Union side.

In every position in which Judge Kirk has ever served the people, he has discharged his duties in a manner which has unquestionably given him rank as one of the ablest lawyers and jurists in the Commonwealth. In the nine years he has been upon the Circuit bench he has tried eighty-four murder cases, and has not been reversed in a single case by the Court of Appeals. In the trial of cases affecting the land titles, he has had a wide and varied experience. He is one of the first judges in the State to pass upon the famous Virginia Land Grant cases, which went from Pike county to the Court of Appeals, and was affirmed there, and then appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States and affirmed by that Court, thus making him a pioneer in the difficult task of removing the clouds that have hung menacingly over the homes of thousands of people in Eastern Kentucky for nearly a century.

The mountain people of Kentucky have never been represented on the Appellate bench by a judge chosen from among the mountain people.

Judge Kirk was born and reared in the mountains and he thoroughly understands the needs of this section of the State and the people of this district can make no mistake by giving him this nomination. He comes from one of the pioneer families, and his location makes him the logical candidate for the office, and he should receive the nomination.

One county in this district has held this office for forty years. We ask you to go to the polls and vote in the primary, Saturday, August 3, and give Judge Kirk's candidacy due consideration.

Read what the newspapers have to say of Judge Kirk and his candidacy: (The Pikeville Herald.)

We have just received the announcement of Judge A. J. Kirk as a candidate for Judge of the Appellate Court of Kentucky and particularly invite your attention thereto.

Being born and bred in the mountains of Kentucky, we are peculiarly sensitive to the interests of a mountain man. Having spent four years in the blue grass at an impressionable age, we appreciate more fully how the mountain section has been discriminated against; how mediocre men in that section have been elevated to positions beyond their merit, while men of extraordinary talent, far above mediocrity, in this section, have been overlooked as to their possibilities; and how they have been blinded to their interests merit going to waste, talent rusting for lack of use, flowers of civility born to blush unseen. Such was the case with Langley, until with the courage of a Greek slave, he forced himself into the halls of success, so long as such mountain men as this he nobly drew, hard to show.

These questions were asked of 250 newspapers, and, Mr. Stahl says, without one exception the replies received were favorable to the parcel post. "Every one—there was not an exception—stated that the parcel post had been a net benefit." He adds:

"A few—not to exceed fifteen of those that replied from Australia and New Zealand—were not certain that the catalog houses did not work some injury to the shopkeepers in the small towns and villages."

All the inquiries made by Mr. Stahl brought forth practically the same answer, no matter from what country they came. He asserts that he began the investigation with an open mind, seeking to get the truth whatever it might be. He sums up the matter by saying that "if the experience of all other people with a modern parcel post has any significance, then there is nothing in the effects of a modern parcel post that will justify delay in giving its great benefits to the people of this country."—Courier Journal.

Plant trees in the poultry yard. If the garden is not well drained don't expect much for it.

Cowpeas, as well as clover, is a very common crop to grow for soil improvement. Powdered charcoal in the feed is good for bowel trouble and plenty of grit has the same effect. Wood ashes are valuable to spread around fruit trees for small fruits and vegetables; they should not be wasted.

The garden can and should be made the most productive and most profitable plot of ground on the farm. It should not be overlooked.

We want your job work.

A Parcel Post Inquiry

John M. Stahl, legislative agent of the Farmers National Congress, has been making some inquiries in foreign countries as to the effect of the parcel post. An especially active effort was made to secure information from Australia and New Zealand, which have an area almost the same as that of the United States and only a small fraction of the population. In his letters of inquiry Mr. Stahl asked these questions:

"Do you think that your parcel post has done more harm than good to the shopkeeper in your villages, town and small cities?"

"Are the store keepers specified above opposed to your parcel post?"

"Considering all your people, has your parcel post been a net benefit or net injury?"

"Have you merchants in your large cities that publish a catalog of goods to be ordered by mail, the goods to be sent by parcel post? If so, do they do a large trade, are they prosperous and their number increasing, and do they seriously injure your shopkeepers in villages and small towns?"

These questions were asked of 250 newspapers, and, Mr. Stahl says, without one exception the replies received were favorable to the parcel post. "Every one—there was not an exception—stated that the parcel post had been a net benefit." He adds:

On Tuesday evening the young people had an outdoor social on Daisy Hill in honor of Miss Edith Miller, of Morehead. Those in attendance were Misses Edith Miller, Floress Seitz, Lala Belle Manker, Elizabeth Scott, Lucile Pieratt, Myrtle Ferguson, Margaret Carter, Leona Belle Carter, Gladys Day, Adah Caraway and Mrs. T. J. Daniel. Messrs. Edgar Lykins, Daniel Henry, Ezra Henry, Ed Cochran, Charles Henry, J. E. Miller and Henry C. Cox.

The children of both our Sunday Schools commemorated children's day by appropriate exercises at the Christian Church Sunday evening. The children of the two schools were trained by Misses Leona Belle Carter, Lilli in Cisco and Floress Seitz. Standing room was at a premium as the children rendered their pretty program, and that the people appreciated it was attested by the offering of $6.60.

Mrs. S. M. R. Hunt and C. A. Ogden entertained the Missionary Society of the M. E. church Wednesday afternoon at the home of the former. The Courier local man was told that the rooms were prettily decorated with Belle roses and that the society had a nice time, but a man can't remember these details and must necessarily fall down on description.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian Church met with Mrs. Chas. Franklin last Thursday afternoon. As an encouragement to securing new members, the society was divided into two parties, captained by Mrs. Jno. B. Phipps and Miss Jennie Phillips, and a contest for new member began. The side that wins is to be entertained at a church social by the losers.

Miss Edith Miller, who has been the guest of Miss Leona Carter for the past few weeks, returned to her home at Morehead last Thursday. Miss Miller is a lovely young lady and made many warm friends among the younger set during her visit here.

The ground is being broken for the foundation of the new Methodist church. The site is at the corner of Main and Prestonburg streets, and the church will be a modern brick structure.

Mrs. S. M. R. Hunt and little daughter, Mary Esther, are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Tippet, at Morehead.

Adjured Insane.

It was a pitiable sight when on last Friday an old lady of 70, "Aunt" Jane Williams, was adjudged a lunatic and ordered to the asylum at Lexington. All of her life had been spent in unremitting toil and just at the brink of the grave she must be sent to such a place. Fortunately for her that she is not in the possession of her senses in the loneliness of her last years.

Forest Davis, of Malone, was in town Wednesday.

J. H. Ferguson, of Pekin, was here on business yesterday.

W. W. McClure and family spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks at Pleasant Run.

Mrs. Elmer Swetman and little daughter Christine, of Georgetown, are visiting relatives in town.

Masters Roy and D. Perry, two bright boys of Joe Perry's, of Bangor, are visiting relatives here this week.

J. H. Elam and family visited his parents, R. M. Elam, and his father-in-law, Jesse Blair, at Wrigley several days last week.

We are glad to report that J. D. Lykins who is at a sanatorium at Martinsville, Ind., is being greatly benefited, and we hope that he will leave his room in time there when he returns.

The Wrigley and Graham Camp Ball teams played a 13 inning game at Wrigley Sunday, the score being 8 to 8. These two teams will play another game at West Liberty Saturday June 22.

J. B. Howard, of Caney, called on us Tuesday and gave us an order for job work. Mr. Howard is one of Morgan county's most progressive business men and a hearty supporter of his home industries.

Just before going to press news reached this office that H. M. Cox, of this place, had lost out in his fight for Prison Commissioner the appointment going to M. F. Conley, of Louisa, editor of the Big Sandy News.

On mailing day last week the editor was absent and Misses Della Cassity, Maud Wells, Katherine Wells and Fleta Hovemale volunteered their services and mailed out the paper, for which they have our thanks—and ice cream.

Entered as second class matter April 7, 1910, at the post-office at West Liberty, Ky., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

GIVE THE MOUNTAINS A CHANCE

JUDGE A. J. KIRK FOR APPELLATE JUDGE

Judge Andrew J. Kirk, of Paintsville, Johnson County, Kentucky, is a candidate for Judge of the Appellate Court from this the Seventh Appellate District. He has served two terms as Circuit Judge of the Twenty-fourth Judicial District, being elected the last time without opposition from either Republicans or Democrats. He is seldom reversed in the Court of Appeals and has made a record to be proud of as Circuit Judge. He is well qualified to fill this office, is the logical candidate at this time, is a deserving Republican, and is a mountain man.

This office has been held by a Montgomery County man for the past forty-six years. It is time the mountain people were given some representation. Friends of Judge Kirk over the district are confident he will win, and he is becoming more popular each day.

The Primary election will be held on Saturday August 3rd. Let every Republican in the county go to the polls and help Judge Kirk, a mountain man, and the son of an old soldier, win the nomination.

We are authorized to announce JOHN PATRICK, (Assessor John) of Grassy Creek, as a candidate for the nomination for Assessor of Morgan county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce REV. W. H. LINDON of Insko, as a candidate for the nomination for Assessor of Morgan county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce GEO. W. STACY, of Grassy Creek, as a candidate for the nomination for Jailer of Morgan county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Republicans ought to be ashamed to appear in public with their delegates all split up the back.

Just about the time the safety razor threatened to put the old-fashioned kind out of business, along comes a negro revolution in Cuba.

The majority of the special Senate Lorimer inquiry committee believes that a Senator should not be twice put in jeopardy on the same election.

The republican party used to be able to get together, no matter what personal difference had arisen. But that was before the "spear that knows no brother" was introduced.

We serve notice on that awful paragraph in the Lexington Herald that he is infringing on our copyright when he attempts to advise prospective brides about the trousseau and "sich things."

Rev. T. B. Cook, pastor of the M. E. church at Jackson, uses three columns of the Breathitt County News, of last week, to convince people that there is a hell. Isn't Jackson, itself, evidence sufficient to prove that point?

With "swatting the fly," keeping up with the base ball score, digesting the nice things that Teddy and Bill are saying about such other, such minor things as attending to ordinary business affairs are too onerous for this hot weather.

Again the COURIER calls attention to the rubbish heaped on the vacant lots. The "city fathers" could do nothing better than pass and enforce a cleaning-up ordinance. While the debris from the burned buildings may not be a menace to health, it greatly detracts from the beauty of the town, and should be removed. And it is imperative that the closets should be cleaned and disinfected and all rotting rubbish removed from all premises.

Will this be done?

Will this be done?

GOOD ROADS.

"The Fiscal Court has done a good thing in contracting for bridges over the various streams of the county, and the people should commend them for it.

The next thing that it should do is to build some good roads to the bridges. The county cannot, of course, make all of her roads good in one year. But it could select some road that is most used and make that good. If the Fiscal Court will build one road scientifically—put it on a good grade and macadamize it—it will be an object lesson that will cause such a demand for good roads that the rest will be easy.

Gentlemen of the court, suppose you try it.

Some time ago The COURIER adopted the idea of a uniform flat rate for advertising. It was a radical departure from the old policy, but the wisdom of this step is being daily demonstrated. It is a business proposition. We have the space to sell. It is worth the price we ask, and if we don't get it, we don't sell. Old contracts will be carried out, but all new ones must conform to the uniform rate idea. We have lost some advertising, it is true, but we have gained others, and in the end it will be better for all. We do not solicit advertising to "help the paper." We want you to feel that you are getting value received for your money. This newspaper is a business proposition, not a recipient of charity. Our space is our stock in trade, and to get it our established price must be paid.

With this issue the COURIER begins the third year of its existence, and we feel that it has passed its crucial period. It had its struggles and vicissitudes during the first part of its life but determination and perseverance enabled it to win. It has not a million readers, but it has a good healthy, growing list of subscribers of the right kind. It has not startled the world, but has created a few impressions. It has not attempted to reform the world—the task is too large. We have made friends and enemies—more friends than enemies, we are proud to say. We are sincerely proud of our friends, of our enemies we are not afraid. Whatsoever has been spoken through the columns of the COURIER has been open and fair, and if perchance it stung or smarted just a little that was only evidence that it was accomplishing its end. Our motto henceforward will be what it always has been: to publish the news and tell the truth without fear or favor; to work for the betterment of West Liberty, Morgan County and Eastern Kentucky; to strike straight from the shoulders with both hands at hypocrisy and fraud; to give praise when praise is due and to cry aloud and spare not where there are wrongs to redress.

ON TO TORRENT.

Only a few more days till the meeting of the Mountain Press Association. Let every editor, foreman, compositor, reporter, devil and all other attaches of the print shop in the mountains of Kentucky and in short all friends of mountain journalism congregate at Torrent the 21st and 22nd Inst. and make the meeting one long to be remembered.

Churchanity vs. Christianity.
Could we but draw back the curtain That surrounds each others' lives, See the naked heart and spirit, Know what spur the action gives, Often we would find it clearer, Purer than we judge we would— We would love each other better, If we only understood. —Anon.

If we only understood! If the church would only understand that the poor wayward devils do not want pity and commiseration; do not take kindly to ostentatious efforts to "save" them. What most strongly appeals to the average human is that his motives are understood. The church don't try to understand. To "build up our church" is usually the motive that actuates the church member. He will work himself into a frenzy during a revival and pound some poor sinner, who has courage sufficient to brave silks and broadcloth and confess, on the back and "brother" him off to the time, and straightway forget him and his struggles. The poor devil looks about him, sees the coldness, feels the loneliness and "renegs" on the next play and goes back to his old life. Then we cry: "Just as I expected." We interpose the scriptural "Thou shalt not," and dogmatically demand the erring, to obey, while the Stentor tones of "Thou shalt" goes unheeded by us.

Intoxicants send many men and women to perdition, but not as many as the icy reserve of the church member. When "Love thy neighbor as thyself" becomes a practice rather than a theory with church members; when the tenets of Christ supercedes petty church politics, we will see the dawn of the church reformation. The sins of omission are worse than the sins of commission. I had rather take the chance of the reeling drunkard than that of the church member whose religious cloak is a coat of mail that chills the atmosphere for blocks about him. Or of the gambler who admits his vocation than the cold blooded business man who makes profits by devious ways that are sanctioned by church and State. Before the church can command the confidence of the great mass of the people whom it is supposed to be reaching out for it must be reformed itself. Its Churchanity must be discarded and love for Christ, and those whom Christ loves, substituted.

If half the energy that is expended in keeping up church affairs were expended in doing the work of Christ the world would be infinitely better. Don't understand me to mean that the church is not doing a great work for good. It is, but its influence is daily waning because it is becoming commercialized. Fine buildings, high salaried preachers and well dressed members is the goal aimed for. Church politics supercedes religion and the high uns in the church use their positions as bosses to further social and business ambitions. For in every church you find a little crowd that shapes the destinies of the organization. And they hang on to the control like burrs, and are as loud as Roosevelt in demand for recognition. The general failure of the church to do the most good is from causes within. Its impotency results from its own disease. The membership must realize that until Christ's teachings are literally followed their influence is nil. To understand, to sympathize with and love your neighbor is the most effective way to serve God. Empty preaching without earnest doing is as purposeless and silly as an agitator editorial, and that's saying a great deal.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing the work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. CHENEY & CO. Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Inherits a Million.

Price Goodwin Beavan is the name of a farm laborer in Brockschire, Wales, who is acclaimed as the heir to $200,000—one million dollars—left to him by his father, Richard Goodwin, who died in Texas six weeks ago. The farm laborer has employed a solicitor of London and Wells to devote his time to securing the inheritance, and Price Goodwin Beavan has left the farm at Llanidloes, exchanging his blouson hat, corduroys and gaiters for a new black suit and hard felt hat. Beavan is now being deluged with hundreds of begging letters and letters suggesting investments for his money, besides which he is asked to contribute to scores of benevolent and church projects.

Recent Loss of New Year Festival.

News of the proposed change of calendars from the Chinese to the Gregorian was not very well received by the Chinese residents in Manila. While realizing that many radical changes must be made in the government and in many of the institutions of the empire, still they deemed this one as coming too suddenly, and some even considered it entirely unnecessary. The Chinese New Year, the only real period of recreation and joy for them, will, by a recent proclamation of the provisional Chinese republic, be done away with, but the Manila Celestials have determined to observe it as heretofore.

Unnecessary Lines on the Face.

Long lines across the brow, the result of elevating the eyebrows to assist in conversation, is a common mistake against which too much cannot be said. These lines continue to grow deeper with each year, until they become fixed and dark, carrying with them the appearance of age and anxiety. By all means massage them with a cold cream, using a rotary movement, and then practice talking minus the eyebrow accompaniment before your mirror, say a half hour at a time. Persistence in this treatment will bring about its abandonment. Be careful not to draw the eyes into unnatural lines when laughing.

Forgotten Tyrant of China.

The abdication—or deposition—of the emperor of China recalls that of the rather lengthy list of ex-sovereigns included another Oriental ruler who once figured very prominently in the public eye—the notorious Theebaw, who succeeded his father to the throne of Ava in 1878, and immediately began to murder his relatives and generally misrule his kingdom. Protests failing to affect him, the British government dispatched an expedition under General Prendergast to depose him. Ava was added to the empire and Theebaw was sent into exile in India, where, powerless, but well provided for, he still survives.

GET THESE Money-making Secrets WITH Farm Journal

For $1.00 you can get now not only the FARM JOURNAL for FOUR full years, but also your choice of any one of the famous booklets, "Money-making Secrets," which other people have bought for the hundred thousand.

Just note what the information given in one of these booklets, "The Million Egg-Farm," did for Robert Liddle, a clerk of Scranton, Pa.

In May, 1910, Robert bought 2360 day-old chicks. He spent just one week studying the methods now given in this book—his only preparation for the business. Result—this "greenhorn" raised 95 per cent. of all his chicks, and 1350 of them were pullets. ("Poultry Secrets" tells you this secret.) In less than seven months he was getting 425 eggs daily, and selling them at 58 cents a dozen. His feed cost averaged $4.00 a day, leaving him OVER $17.00 A DAY PROFIT—and this before all his pullets had begun laying.

Isn't "Money-making Secrets" a good name for such booklets?

Read what people say of the other booklets, and of the FARM JOURNAL itself:

"I find your Egg-Book worth untold dollars," says Roy Chaney, Illinois. "What it tells would take a beginner years to learn."

"I am much pleased with the Butter Book," writes F. J. Dickson, Illinois. "And would like to know how I could secure 300 copies, one for each patron of our grocery."

"Duck Dollars is the best book I ever had on duck raising," says F. M. Watson, Pennsylvania.

"If your other booklets contain as much valuable information as the Egg-Book, I would consider them cheap at double the price," says F. W. Mansfield, New York.

T. E. McCrea, a missionary in China, writes, "I found Garden Gold a great help in my garden this summer. I lost my health in the great famine, trying to save the starving Chinese, and I am trying to get it back by getting near the soil. After a long time with the Chinese language and mission problems, it is a great rest to get out with vegetables, trees, chickens, etc., and saving money and gaining my health. My wife and I both find Farm Journal indispensable."

"The FARM JOURNAL beats them all," writes T. H. Porter, Pennsylvania. "Every issue has reminders and a word of advice."

"One year I took another agricultural paper," says N. M. Gladwin, Washington. "and it took a whole column to tell what FARM JOURNAL tells in one paragraph."

"I was very greatly helped by your garden page," writes Mrs. Joe L. Switzer, Saskatchewan. "I was never successful in growing cabbage until last summer, when I tried the FARM JOURNAL way. Now I have more than I need to use."

"FARM JOURNAL was a regular visitor at my boyhood home," writes Dr. William Davis, New Jersey. "When the first crop came, I carried me back ten years, and I felt a boy again. I shall never be without it again—I want home to seem like home. When I am tired, I feel the gladness jump right into me. I lie on the first page and read to my wife until half past ten, and all through the night I dream of it. You must work hard to keep it so rich."

"FARM JOURNAL is good for the man behind the counter, as well as the man in the field," says J. L. Scott, a Virginia bank clerk.

"If I could get as good interest on every dollar as I get on FARM JOURNAL, I would soon be a millionaire," says A. W. Wetzel, Pennsylvania.

FARM JOURNAL FOUR full years, with any one of the booklets, both for $1.00

"MONEY-MAKING SECRETS."

These booklets are 6 by 9 inches, all poultry illustrated.

POULTRY SECRETS is a great collection of discoveries and methods of successful poultrymen, long carefully guarded. It gives the famous old-time secrets, the best method of getting one-half more pullets than chickens, the method of insuring fertility, with precious secrets of mating, breeding, feeding and laying, how to insure winter eggs, etc.

HORSE SECRETS exposes all the methods of "bushings," "plugging," creasing and gasoline dousing, and other tricks of "gyps" and swindlers, and enables any one to tell an unswerving horse. It also gives many valuable training, feeding, breeding and veterinary secrets.

THE MILLION EGG-FARM gives the methods by which J. M. Foster makes over $14,000 a year, mainly from eggs. All back yard chicken-raises should learn about the "Rancocas Unit," and how Foster makes his hens make them produce such quantities of eggs, etc.

STRAWBERRY SECRETS tells how you can have the finest strawberry crop almost anywhere. It gives you the fruits of ten years' work and study of experts in this new industry. It reveals the secrets of raising and the best soil for growing berries in the fall, the inside facts about varieties, how to get three crops in two years, how one grower gets 10,000 quarts an acre and nets $2500 a year, etc.

J. J. Farmer, the famous berry man, says, "Any one who can grow ordinary strawberries can, if they read this book, grow fat berries almost anywhere."

CORN SECRETS, the great NEW hand-book of Prof. Holden, the "Corn King," tells how to get ten to twenty bushels more per acre of corn rich in protein and the best soil-growing elements. Pictures make every process plain.

THE "BUTTER BOOK" tells of seven cows that produced half a ton of butter each per year (150 pounds, is the average). An expert for dairymen. Get it, weed out your poor cows, and turn good ones into record producers.

GARDEN GOLD shows how to make your back-yard supply fresh vegetables and fruit, how to cut down your grocery bills, keep a better table, and get cash for your surplus. It is how to plant, cultivate, harvest and market.

DUCK DOLLARS tells how the great Weber duck-farm near Boston makes every year 50 cents each on 40,000 ducklings. Tells why ducks pay them better than chickens, and just HOW they do everything.

TURKEY SECRETS, the latest authority on turkey-raising, discloses fully the methods of Horace Vose, the famous Rhode Island "turkey-man," who supplies the wonderful Thanksgiving turkeys for the White House. It tells how to mate, to get eggs, to hatch, to feed and rear for the young, to prevent sickness, to fatten, and how to make a real "punch PAX."
